Gold Mining Men Oppose Severance Tax

Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

Years ago when the San Francisco Mining Exchange, unhampered by conscience or security acts, rose and fell feverishly with reports from Goldfield and Tonopah, the writer in a reportial capacity happened along Bush street near the mouth of this devouring monster. Presently he heard a voice just ahead of him that rose a little above the usual San Francisbco street noises. A tight fisted, wealthy, unscrupulous leader of the exchange, who in his long career, had never spared the lamb the shears, was talking to himself, that is, "thinkink out loud." And this was what he was monotonously repeating: "I'm tired of losing money. I'm damned tired of losing money. I'm tired of losing money." The tone of mingled outrage and resentment in which this soliloquy was uttered might have stirred his hearer to pity, but for the certainty that this old shark would soon take a terrific revenge upon the guillible for his present distress.

Which somehow is remindful of the injunction of a gay young girl to her fond but married suitor: "If you talk in your sleep, don't mention my name."

We suspect that the Townsend clubs are developing a racket that covered the Ku Klux Klan with embarrassment a dozen years since. The Townsend promoters have found there is money in this bright dream. There are a good many millons of people over sixty in this country that would like to see the millenium on earth ,and $200 per month income. A large proportion of them have been good spenders all their lives, and the prospect of being "fo'ced," as a darky would say, to receive and spend $200 each month is sweeter than ambrosia. To these folks, organization, dues, initiation fees, and remittances to megaphoning leaders, constitute a small sacrifice to make in view of the paradisal goal. We strongly suspect that a few gentry at the top are garnering in the sheafs before the vision fades.

Marysville, which years ago, was the market center for Nevada, Sierra and Yuba counties, (the mountainous portions of the latter) and foolishly killed the mountain goose that laid golden eggs for it, by forcing a halt in hydraulic mining, is now desperately trying to revive the dead goose. First at the expenditure of a sum that would compare favorably with the cost of Feather River Canyan highway, that city wishes to push a state highway through from Marysville to Downieville, and in the immediate future, it hopes to get Federal aid for an airport at Camptonville, to cost some $17,000.

A naive reason is offered for the projected Camptonville airport and that is that it is well known that the Yuba Pass route is safer than over the Summit, and that the only reason the Summit route is now used is because air beacons have been installed and the route is well mapped. No mention is made of the fact that the Summit route is nearly half an hour shorter, and except for very occasional storms can be used the year around. When storms occur offering air hazards, airline pilots do detour to the north. Nevada City's airport on Cement Hill plaeau is an ideal landing in event detours are forced to the north, for which the pilots are not prepared. To put another airport at Camptonville duplicates this facility.

Tito Schipa smoothing away the worries of this world, carrying his audience into a paradise of sound with his golden voice, is of far more value to the world than a score of Mussolinis, Hitlers, Stalins. When a small lad his parish priest discovered his great gift. Later when his family, Italian peasnts, assigned him to the priesthood, a bishop heard his liquid honey laden voice soaring in the choir loft, decided that he could serve God better as a singer than as a priest. Wise old bishop! Wise old church!

Hearing that great tenor last Friday night in the Sacramento auditorium, singing the beautiful sentiment of masters of music and poetry, hearing the enraptured applause of his huge audience, one cannot help but contrast this artist with his countryman, the Bully Mussolini. It really seems anomalous, yet the most beautiful flowers grow from a mixture of earth and the barnyard manure.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Baker of Berkeley spent the week end in this city which was formerly their home.

WOOLSEY MINE AT GRANITEVILLE HITS PAY ORE

In recent months William Josephian of Oakland took a lease and bond on the old Woolsey property of six claims located two miles west of Graniteville on the Middle Yuba river and started development. R. J. Bauer, on July 5, was employed as superintendent of mine construction and assisted in sinkng a 30 foot shaft at the top of the mountain to determine the pay streak and then work was shifted to the base of the steep mountain to determine the ledge matter in the schist and relative formations. After driving a 70 foot tunnel paying ore was found in iron pyrites and schisty slate with the veing formation running from three to seven feet wide.

Mr. Josephian purchased a Ford truck and 22 horsepower catepillar. The mile and half of road down the mountain was nearly 20 per cent grade in places. All materials taken to the property in the last 60 years had been moved by pack train. This caterpillar has been used in hauling loads of pipe, portable compressor, Fordson tractor, to the mine without difficulty. In the last few days a 25 ton capacity cyclone mill, consisting of crusher, feeder, Australian shaker amalgamator and concentrator was taken to the mine. The mill was purchased at Sacramento where Mr. Tetrault, inventor, had constructed it. A 350 foot tram line has been built from one side of the canyon to the other to carry ore.

The mill is ready to start operation but Mr. Bauer, suffered injury to his face and eyes when he was sprayed with metallic sodium that came in contact with water. He will be in the Nevada City Sanitarium for a few days.

Mr. Bauer stated the caterpillar is a big saving to the operator as it will take a five ton load down this mountain, moving many loads per day in rapid succession, at very little cost. It has not only been used to bring in materials and equipment but have pulled out boulders weighing two and a half ton, pulled down two foot thick logs for the mill foundations.

GROCERS ASKED TO SPONSOR NEV. CO. APPLE WEEK

In connection with the Country Fair which the P. T. A. is sponsoring for Saturday night, November 2, the grocers of Nevada county will be asked to sponsor Nevada County Week, during which all dealers will encourage the purchase of home grown apples, which in places outside this county have established a high reputation for superior flavor and beauty.

The Country Fair is designed to be a monster benefit for the purpose of raising funds to erect a Scout Lodge in Pioneers Park.

MOTOR LAUNCH BUILT FOR BULLARD'S LAKE

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 20.—William A. Lang, proprietor of the Lang Garage, school bus operator, and jovial citizen has turned sea captain. He recently completed a large motor launch, and a few days ago, in company with Mrs. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Price and Fred J. Joubert, made his first cruise on Bullards Bar lake.

His boat has been christened "Lila", will carry ten passengers, is non sinkable, and a pleasure to ride in, and Captain Bill expects to make many pleasant trips on Bullards lake.

Misses Margaret and Ruth Rector, students in the University of California spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rector.

Miss Deynes Foley was a visitor over the week end with her mother, Mrs. Emma Foley. Miss Foley is a student in the San Francisco teachers college.

YOU BET MINE CO. WINS SUIT

The You Bet Mining Company on Friday was awarded the decision in the suit brought by the Noble Brothers to stop the company using their land for roads and ditches in the operation of the company's placer mine.

Judge Raglan Tuttle held that by virtue of use and possession over a long term of years, the defendants were entitled to use the land.

RIDGE CLUB GIVES ARMISTICE DAY DANCE

(By KATHEINE BRAITHWAITE)

The North San Juan Ridge Townsend Club held a lively and interesting meeting last Sunday afternoon in the schoolhouse at French Corral. President William Baker opened the meeting and the club, which consists of ninety seven members, stood and sang "America" with Mrs. Frank Miller's accompaniment at the organ.

Of particular interest to everyone n general was the announcement that on Saturday November ninth, the club is sponsoring an Armistice Day dance at Twamley Memorial Hall in North San Juan. As Armistice Day falls on Monday this year, the club decided that the Saturday night prior would be the logical date.

Mr. Frank Miller, Mr. Harper, and Mr. John Dupsiek are on the committee to see that this dance is one of the best yet to be staged on the Ridge.

This dance will have as its main feature a first class orchestra capable of playng the rousing dance tunes of the war period. Chow will be served in the dugut and many other features reminesent of the Big Scrap will be sponsored.

The committee suggests that vets appear in their various uniforms and overseas headgear and add atmosphere to the general attraction and amusement. It is hoped, by the San Juan Townsend Club that other clubs in the surrounding towns will enter into the spirit of the affair and make of it one glorious good time.

Twamley Hall only lacks a few more days of sunshine and it will be comfartably equipped to make the merry makers feel that North San Juan is the ideal place to dance and have a good time.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT VICTIM SUCCUMBS

Services were held at St. Patrick's Catholic church in Grass Valley this morning at 9:30 o'clock and interment was made in the Catholic cemetery in Nevada City of the remains of Mrs. Ethel McCulla.

Mrs. McCulla, 38 years of age was fatally injured in an automobile accident Friday morning in which she received a fractured skull. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Genevive McCulla, of Grass Valley, mother, Mrs. Abbie Reilly of Grass Valley, two sisters, Mrs. W. W. Casserley of Goodyear Bar, Sierra County, and Mrs. G. F. Fondren of Nevada City; brother, Bert Reilly of Forest City.

WASHINGTON P. T. A.

A splendid attendance of 50 P. T. A. members were present last Friday to hear Rev. Charles Washburn deliver an earnest and sincere talk on "Youth and Safety." Mrs. Carl Libby's first, second and third grade children rendered five numbers which were greatly enjoyed. Outstanding in the program was a song, "There's a Tavern in Our Town," sung by a first grader, Bobby Cozzalia, a-capella. He had heard the song listening to the radio, and learned it.

The coming Country Fair came in for discussion. Committee chairmen were chosen as follows: Mrs. J. P. Muscardini, refreshments; Mrs. Elza Kilroy and Mrs. Bonner, tickets; Mrs. W. E. Young, fancy work.

YELLOWJACKETS TO CLASH WITH GRANT UNION

(By BEN SWEENEY)

Wednesday afternoon on the gridiron of the Grant Union high school, the Nevada City Yellowjackets will meet the Grant Union eleven in a game of division B football. The locals, undefeated as yet in league games this season, will meet a tough outfit in the Grant team. Both Nevada City and Grant have defeated the Roseville outfit. Grant having smothered Roseville Saturday. If the dope sheet means anything at all a good game, and a mighty hard-fought battle is certain to be the outcome of the contest.

The game was necessarily held on a Wednesday to accomodate the number of games scheduled for the season by both Nevada City and Grant. Since last Wednesday, Coach Barron has been giving the locals a good workout for the coming game. With Nevada City leading the B division teams in the league, this game is all-important in deciding whether or not the purple and gold eleven can maintain its supremacy.

HI BIOLOGY CLASS VISITS SUGAR FACTORY

The field trip taken by the biology classes to Manteca and Sacramento Saturday was a success. Mr. Hobbie science teacher at the high school, accompanied the group which numbered nearly thirty. The trip was made in the San Juan school bus.

Starting at 7:30 from the high school grounds, the trip was made to Manteca where the sugar refinery in operation there was visited. On the return trip, the group made a short stop at Sacramento where an inspection was made of the water-purifying unit for Sacramento. Each of these visits had a direct bearing on studies being carried on in the biology department of the local high school, and were of great benefit to students of biology.

At Auburn, the delay due to motor trouble was necessarily made. A call was put through to Nevada City to put at ease any parents who might have become worried. Before eleven however, the big yellow bus pulled into town, all occupants present, and not too sleepy to admit that they look forward to more field trips during the year.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. HARRIETT J. ROBINSON

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Harriett J. Robinson were held at 2 o'clock yesterday from the Holmes-Hooper Chapel in Grass Valley. Rev. W. Adam of Chicago Park officiated.

The deceased, 95 years old, had lived in Grass Valley for 45 years and was very active in social, church and lodge circles. She belonged for many years to the Eastern Star and the Pythian Sisters. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Anna Howk of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Lucille Montgomery of Nevada City, and one son, Don Robinson of San Francisco.

Class of 1940 Gives Initial Dance

Doing their initial entertaining, the freshmen class of the Nevada City high school were hosts to a good crowd of students and parents at the annual freshman party held last Friday evening. From 8:30 until 11, the guests danced to the music of Le Duc's orchestra.

In a competition held during the coudse of the evening, Margaret Stevens and Ray Wilde danced their way to a first prize which was presented by Miss Nancy Jones, advisor of the freshman group. Suitable to the occasion, being the last affair before Hallowe'en, the first prize was a pumpkin, rotund and bright-hued.

The Class of 1940 has set a fine precedent for the other classes whose entertainments will fllow as the school year advances.

Assembly Committee Hears Sharp Protest

More than 150 representatives of mining districts from Siskiyou to Kern and San Bernardino gathered in the assembly chamber of the Capitol at Sacramento Saturday and presented the arguments against the severance tax on gold to the interim committee of the assembly consisting of Clifford Kallam of Santa Cruz, Jesse M. Mayo, of Calaveras, and T. H. DeLap of Contra Costa.

Among those whe presented forceful arguments against the proposed tax were George W. Peltier, banker of Sacramento and mine owner, Ed Jones, president of the Mine Workers Protective League of Grass Valley, Fred Searls, vice president and general manager of the Newmont Mining company, H. R. Plate, superintendent of the Spring Hill mine, Coley Boreham of Grass Valley, J. M. Inman, Senator Andy Pierocich of Amador, Charles Gilmore, secretary of the California Mining Association, Harry Sears, president of the Mining Association of California and superintendent and operator of the Calaveras Central Gold mine; Senator Thomas McCormack, president and general manager of the Natomas company; L. L. Pryor, tax accountant of San Francisco; C. C. Brayton, representing the mining machinery manufacturers; H. R. Plate s,uperintendent and general manager of the Spring Hill mine in Grass Valley; George W. Peltier, Sacramento banker; A. R. Campbell, superintendent of the Plumbago mine Sierra county; George Calanan, Nevada City. James D. Stewart, Auburn, and A. N. Sweet, superintendent of the Chicago-Auburn mine in Placer county.

Robert M. Searls, attorney for California Mning association, summarized practically all the reasons against severanve tax on gold in the following address:

(1) The severanve tax violates American principles of just taxation. The severance tax was originally applied in countries where the sovereign owned all the minerals in the soil whether the land be privately or publicly owned. This is not true in the United States. The owner of private land in the United States owns the substance of the soil and everything in it. To tax him for the privilege of removing from the soil what is his already in addition to taxing him on the value of his property is unjust and discriminatory. It is double taxation within the inhibition of the State Constitution. Why should the miner be taxed on the right to take from his land the gold it contains any more than a farmer should be taxed on the right to take from his land the crops that it will grow? Both rights are reflected in the value of the land, which is assessed and taxed under the property tax. Why should the miner be taxed again under the severance tax theory and the farmer, manufacturer, and the real estate operator be allowed to go scot-free?

(2) The severance tax is wrong in economic principle. It is sometimes said by its advocates that the producer of minerals exhausts the value of the soil and should stand an extra tax for this reason. This is a false premise. The producer of minerals, through his enterprise, skill, and capital, adds to the value of the soil a taxable value it never had before. During the time that he is extracting the minerals he pays a tax on that added value. When the minerals have been extracted, the land goes back to its original non-mineral value and the state has lost nothing. It has received its just share of taxes upon the added value. It is entitled to nothing more. The economic principle of taxation is that tax levy should have some relation to the ability to pay. A severance tax violates this principle because it hits with equal severity the producer who operates at a profit and the producer who operates a property which just meets operating expenses. It is in effect a tax on gross income and gross income is never any measure of ability to pay. This is clearly demonstrated by the summary of facts submitted herewith.

(3) The severance tax on gold is particularly unjust. As stated, it is a tax on the gold miner's bullion production, which is in effect his gross income. He cannot possibly pass it on. The Mint will pay him no more than the legal price for his gold no matter how much the state taxes it. The injustice of taxing gold was recognized by the people in the adoption of the sales tax amendment to the Constitution. This amendment expressly excepts gold bullion from the sales tax. The legislature violates the spirit and intent of that popular mandate and amendment it it levies the same tax in the form of a severance tax The gold miner is engaged in a very hazardous occupation. For the most part his capital is derived from sources outside of California. His is the premier industry upon which this commonwealth was founded. His reward has not been undue. It has often been said by competent authority that more money has been invested in the gold mines of California than has ever been taken out. A discriminatory severance tax therefore penalizes the investment of new capital in California's oldest industry. It adds unjustly to the hazard of an already hazardous investment and it discourages enterprise which the legislature ought to encourage.

(4) A severance tax is a blow at the prosperit of every mining community. There is a tier of mountain counties on the eastern side of California extending from San Bernardino north to Siskiyou where mining is the principal industry. Under the impetus of the new price for gold new capital has flowed into these communities, employing additional men, opening up old properties, mostly containing a grade of ore too low to mine at a profit at the old price of gold and helping mightily to build up a modicum of prosperity where only unemployment and despair had been before. A severance tax, such as is proposed on gold, will inevitably result in the closing down of these marginal mining operations, throwing hundreds of men out of employment, eliminating hundreds of thousands of dollars in purchase orders for equipment, materials, machinery, and supplies, destroying taxable value, reducng the sales tax income, and causing an irreparable loss to the merchants and business men of these communities. It will add vastly to their unemployment total and to the relief rolls. We shall show that this is no mere threat. It is an inevitable consequence of a tax such as is proposed.

(5) The severance tax on gold will not compensate the state in revenue for what it will lose. California produced in 1934 approximately $25,000,000 of gold bullion. The greater part of this came from marginal operations. A 3% severance tax on this would yield only $750,000 if it were all paid, as against the state deficit of 100 times that amount. But it would not be paid because a levy of such a tax will promptly cause the discontinuance of many of the marginal opefations which are producing the basis of the taxation, namely, the bullion output. Furthermore, the curtailment of these operations will result in a heavy decrease in the sales tax and the materials and supplies purchased for such operations. It will decrease the use of power, and by so much t,he income of the public utilities and the franchise tax which they pay based on income. It will decrease the assessable value of the properties and cause a loss in the property tax. Taxation to the point of confiscation never does pay in government, and it will not pay the state of California either in state income or in community prosperity.

(6) The experience of other states supports the conclusions hereinabove submitted. We summarize briefly:

Minnesota levied a severance tax on the production of iron ore. In 1928 the Minnesota Tax Commission reported to the legislature of that state that the mining of millons of tons of low grade ores had what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

World Conquerors

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—Conceded that Italy started hostilities against a weaker race for purely selfish motives, which among the nations that might seek to block her would come with clean hands?

It wouldn't be Britain, with her record in the opium war. It couldn't be France, with her record toward colonial possessions, and, lately, toward occupied territories. Not Belgium, surely, with her reeking record in the Congo. Not Spain with the Riff to accuse her; nor Germany, which grabbed off one of the fattest cockles of Africa's heart when the grabbing was good; nor Japan, with her teeth set in China's torn flanks. Nor yet America, with long centuries behind her of infamous mistreatment for our own Indians.

Irvin S. Cobb

Out of all history, you'll find but one world-conqueror who came with clean hands—and those hands the soldiers pierced with iron spikes as they nailed the Nazarene to the cross.

Arkansas Athletes

IF THEY craved to get on the front page, the Italians made a grave mistake by starting a war when there's a World series on—especially one where you find two opposing star pitchers from the same great state. What scoundrel was it said the chief products of Arkansas were Democrats and champion hog-callers?

And why shouldn't that Warneke boy be able to throw straight and move fast? Where he comes from, when the family's out of meat one of the youngsters runs down a buck rabbit or slips out before breakfast with a pocketful of rocks and comes home with a mess of squirrels. If they'd only let him take off his shoes, he could move around that infield even faster.

Also, it "comes natchell," as they say in his country and mine, to nurse one quid in the right cheek all afternoon. I was sixteen years old before I knew there was any other salad course except chewing tobacco or that oysters didn't grow in a can.

Pestered Presidents

PROBABLY California was no worse than any other section, but I'll bet Mr. Roosevelt uttered a silent cheer when he pulled out on a commodious and uncrowded ocean with only the sea lions to listen to, instead of the spouting orators of America.

We elect a man to the highest office—and the toughest job on earth—and then handshake him and flag-wave him and speech-make him to death. He goes forth to see how fares the country and can't see the country for the reception committees. He has a private car to travel in and spends his time on the back platform. He goes back home to do his work and all the visiting firemen in the land come to be photographed with him on the White House lawn. (NOTE—The exhausted gentleman crouched in the middle is him.)

A President of the United States has no more privacy than a—a President of the United States. Fooled you goldfish fanciers that time, didn't I?

It's as though we hired the exclusive services of Michelangelo and then sent him out to take orders for enlarged crayon portraits.

Kentucky Elections

THEY had a primary election in Kentucky not long ago, and we didn't know the results until fully 24 hours afterward because they've got a law down there against counting the vote for at least one day after the polls close, then allowing time to notify the families of deceased and the coroners.

As a native son, I'll never forget the thrill I had in 1932 when all the rest of the country had reported—a party named Hoover also was running that year—and then the first scattering returns came in from Kentucky: seven dead and eighteen wounded.

But I'm afraid the old state is slipping. There were only 750 National Guardsmen on duty for this last election in Harlan county, where the mountain boys still have a boyish way of voting with Winchester rifles. And I can remember when a Republican governor called out the entire military force of the commonwealth to disperse one lone Democrat, Col. Jack Chinn. The colonel wasn't feeling very irritated, either—just a trifle above normal.

Those I. O. U.'s

IF MEMORY rightly serves this humble scribe, it's almost time for our government to go through the laughable routine of sending off the customary batch of those quaint "please remit" notes to remind the European powers that accumulated installments and back interest payments are overdue on that little debt of eleven or twelve billions.

The usual procedure will be followed—that is, the rest of 'em will just ignore the whole theory, and somebody in Paris, where the repudiation idea originated, will denounce Uncle Sam for his hideous greed.

"Lafayette, they ain't there."

CAMPTONVILLE

By ACTON M. CLEVELAND

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 17.—As a surprise to their many friends in this section Elmore Hastell of North San Juan and Mrs. Edith Wells of Camptonville quietly journeyed to Reno last week and were married. Although it was presumed that they were going to be married, it was not expected quite so soon.

The young couple have a host of friends in this vicinity who wish them well in their married life and the community extends congratulations. They will make their home in this section.

NEWLYWEDS AT HOME HERE

The news of the marriage of William Zanocco and Miss Katie Matheu in Reno, Nevada, about two weeks ago, just became known in this city within the past few days.

Mr. Zanocco was born and reared in this city and has hosts of friends here who wish to congratulate him. He is employed in the Murchie mine.

The bride, is in charge of a restaurant in the Muscardini Pool Hall on upper Broad street in this city. She is an attractive young woman who has made many friends since coming to Nevada City. The young couple will make their home in the Fred Zanocco home on Park Ave.

Sveerance Taxes Block Enterprise

Why should capital available for investment in California be invested in the development of our natural resources if they are to be discriminated against in the matter of taxation? Investors everywhere must count upon standing their share of the cost of Government, but they have a right to expect that tax apportionment shall be equitable and not discriminatory. There are many gold deposits in California awaiting development, but the cost of mining them is perilously close to what may be reasonably expected in the way of a gross return. With few exceptions the high grade "finds" have disappeared. The great bulk of California gold mining is in the ore of relatively low grade return. Profitable mining is on a scinetific basis. The operator must count his costs and block out his ore and estimate his return before he is justified in going ahead. The state now proposes to take $3.00 out of every hundred of that gross return in the form of a severance tax. There are many instances in which this will be just the last straw that determines the investor to refrain from putting his money into California gold mines, or from extending the investment which he may already have. He is also very likely to figure—and with some justifiation of the basis of past history, that the 3% severance tax is just the beginning. If once the camel gets his head under the tent there is nothing to prevent another legislature from hiking the rate. Other industries will look on complacently so long as they are not hit. The inevitable consequence of this decision on the part of the prospective investor is diminished employment, loss to mining communities, and a killing off of the very revenue that the state seeks to raise. The imposition of the severance tax on gold is exactly the same thing as holding up a tourist at the state line and compelling him to surrender $3.00 out of every hundred which he proposes to bring into California. Does anyone think that such a policy would encourage tourists to come to this state and spend their money here?

A severance tax will have exactly the same effect on investors who are weighing California gold mines as against those in other states who do not impose such discriminatory taxation.

PIONEERS OF EDUCATION IN CALIFORNIA

(By ROY W. CLOUD)
State Executive Secretary
California Teachers' Association

Editor's Note: California's public school system is regarded as one of the two outstanding system of the United States, New York State alone challenging comparison. This series of ten articles is intended to familiarize friends of the schools and the public generally with outstanding pioneers who have contributed to the development, since 1849, of California's pre-eminent public school system.

JOHN CONNESS

John Conness, United States Senator from California from 1863 to 1869 and a stalwart friend of the California public school system, had never taught a day in school; yet, so important was his service to education that he deserves to be remembered among that bright galaxy of men and women who have helped to make a statewide system of free public schools the heritage of California boys and girls today.

Born in Ireland, his family immigrated to America when he was twelve. Coming west with the gold rush in 1849, as miner and later as merchant, he identified himself with public activities. In 1853 he was elected to the state legislature and re-elected in 1861. He became a powerful legislative supporter of such educational leaders as Swett and Moulder.

For ten years the legislature had been wrestling with the problem of converting "school lands"—grants by the federal government when California was admitted to statehood—to the use of public education. It was due to Conness' milltant advocacy of converting these lands to school funds that the Conness Act of 1861 was passed, turning into the state school fund the proceeds of nearly six million acres. This fund today totals more than $10,000,000.

Conness rendered another, and probably even more important service to public education in California. He, more than any one man, was instrumental in preventing the distribution of state school funds among the private and religious schools of the state. In defense of a law forbidding such a distribution of school funds, Conness made one of the greatese speeches ever delivered in the California legislature.

In 1855 a law had been passed providing that no school should receive any apportionment of public money "unless free from all denomination and sectarian bias, control or influence whatever." A measure to repeal this law was before the legislature.

Conness made a ringing speech in favor of a free system of public schools. He argued clearly and logically against giving public money to private or sectarian schools.

"Drive home this wedge that is now pointed at your common school system," he declared, "and you will have schools exclusively under the control of sects and parties, as well as persons engaged as educators for profit."

Conness referred to what little education he had received as an emigrant boy in the public schools of New York and continued:

"Hence, sir, when the question of public schools—of free schools—in which the children of all may be educated without price, without distinction of class, of wealth, or of politics of religious opinions, is involved, it is no wonder that I should feel a deep interest in that question. Next to the unity and the continued and happy prosperity of this glorious country that we live in and are common citizens of—next to its continued and prosperous existence, I owe all allegiance, all love, all admiration, and all eeffort, to the public schools of our country."

Conness' speech on this occasion was generally regarded as having won him the United States Senatorship at the election the following year.

As a powerful lay friend of the public school system, John Conness has earned his place in the gallery of California's great educational leaders.

RAW CHESTNUTS GAVE THIS BOY WEEK'S PAIN

Erik Anderson, not a very big boy but very venturesome, ate heartily of raw chestnuts last week and as a result he has had a sad and painful time with his stomach. He wishes to notify all the boys and girls through these columns that raw chestnuts which are so abundant and easily gotten just now, are not fit for anything but squrriels. The doctor says he will be back in school in a few days.

MONEY IN CIRCULATION

According to Miller & Co., dealers in stocks and bonds, money in circulation as of September 30, 1935 amounted to $5,683,257,683, equal to $44.62 per capita, compared with $5,628,781,402, or $44.22 per capita for August 31, 1935.

What to Write

Oh wirra me, what shall I write
This somber, autumn day,
As little wispy, nit-wit thoughts
Within my brain cells play?
Now here is something ready made—
A really clever jest,
But I can't use the dratted thing—
It's one of Irv Cobb's best.

How would a bit of scandal do?
Oh, nothing really bad;
I wouldn't wreck a happy home
Or make tale bearers glad;
But I have heard a spicy yarn,
The kind for which some thirst;
Alas, I'm out of luck again,
Walt Winchell heard it first.

I think I'll wander to the town
And tally all I see;
The mayor speaking with a friend,
A matron sipping tea,
The sheriff in his new fall hat,
The chief preventing fire,
But wouldn't this smack much too much
Of O. O. McIntyre?

Now if I cannot catch the thoughts of clever writing men
And neatly turn them to my use
Convincingly, what then?
"I won't write anything," I said,
After prolonged reflection,
"I'll simply shout, Whoops, boys and girls,
We won the bond election!"

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

LIVESTOCK FEED SITUATION FOR WINTER IS GOOD

eeSACRAMENTO, OCT. 21,—Condition of California ranges continues excellent, the rating for October 1 being 89 compared with the ten year average in this state of 71.6, and with 53 per cent normal at that date in 1934. The present condition in terms of average rating for October 1 is, therefore, about 125 per cent.

That announcement was made today at theState Department of Agriculture by George Scott, livestock statistician of the Federal State Crop Reporting Service.

The livestock and feed situation remains very favorable over California as a whole, Scott said. Prospects of wintering livestock are very promising and there are good supplies of feeds available for fattening of animals to be marketed.

Cattle and sheep are in satisfactory condition.

Imports of stocker and feed animals from other states have been maintained at relatively high levels this year, accounting for increases in local holdings.

GALLANT BUCK TOO FOND OF WATER

CAMPTONVILLE, OCT. 21,— The curtain went down on the 1935 deer hunting as the season closed Tuesday night. Most hunters were fairly successful in this section this year there being many deer killed. Just as the season closed, Chas. L. Wilson of the Log Cabin killed his second buck a short distance above the Sleighville House.

One ofthe most exciting experience in the local hunting grounds this season was experienced by Frank Klenzendorf and a party of friends from Sacramento, hunting in the vicinity of Bullard's Bar Lake. Thier dogs jumped a big buck which headed for the lake, several shots were made, but all missed; the buck swam the lake and as he left the water on the opposite side one bullet hit him and knocked him down, he got up and ran to the woods. The party then motored to the other side ofthe dam and their dogs again ran the deer out, he headed back to the water again almost running over one of the party, in an endevor to swim across again he was shot and killed, and immediately sank in about sixteen feet of water. One of the enthuiastic hunters not wanting to lose their prize, took off his clothes, at nine o'clock inthe morning and dived the deer out, but the water was too deep and cold. They obtained a boat and some rope and in due time were able to get a rope on the deers leg and raise him to the surface. One of his horns were shot off, that apperantly being the first shot It was one of the biggest bucks killed this year and was estimated to be twenty years old, and this was probably one of the most exciting hunting experiences of the season. into the cold water trying to get

Red Cross Has Busy Year; Statistics Impressive; Services Varied

Figures gathered at random from the year's report of the American Red Cross reveal the magnitude of the work being carried on by that organization.

Red Cross workers assisted 54,305 veterans; 587 Red Cross Public Health nurses paid 921,455 visits to 186,326 patients; 98,441 first aid certificates were issued while 46,693 persons were trained in life saving. Volunteer workers produced 3,102,843 surgical dressings, with 80,901 volunteers being on active duty throughout the year.

First Aid Treatment Taught Thousands By Red Cross

More than 187,000 certificates showing completion of first aid courses were issued last year by the Red Cross. This shows a gain of 56,000 certificates over the previous year. Approximately 64,200 boys in C.C.C. camps throughout the country passed first aid tests. Since the Red Cross first entered the field of first aid teaching, being one of the first organizations in the world to do so, almost one million persons have been trained in handling emergency treatment.

The annual report of the Red Cross further reveals that more than 327,000 copies of the Red Cross Aid Handbook have been sold at home and abroad.

The Red Cross has assisted 54,305 veterans in clearing their cases through the U. S. Veterans' Bureau this past year.

Last year 3,837,941 persons became members of the Red Cross. The annual roll call takes place each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day.

Junior Red Cross members increased by 402,000 enrollments during the year which has just passed. Junior members carried on an exchange of correspondence with junior members in 62 other countries having Red Cross Societies.

PRELIMINARY STUDY OF METALLIC GOLD

A preliminary study of the Composition of native metallic gold, has been made by Welton J. Crook, Professor of Metallurgy, Stanford University. Prof. Crook states:

"An extremely interesting and easily understood description of the preparation for the spectographic study of metallic gold revealing the presence of aluminum, copper, iridium, iron, lead, molybdenum, nickle, osmium, palladium, rutheniuni, rhodium, titanium, etc., present in one form or another with metallic gold after careful cleaning and treatment to remove everything but gold. The commonest association being gold, silver, iron and copper.

"Conclusions from the preliminary investigation indicate that native metallic gold occurs as an alloy of gold, silver, and copper, with iron present, but not as metallic iron. That it may become possible to identify the exact source of gold. That the difference between "new" placer gold and "old" placer gold may be identified by the study of strain line structures.

"It was suggested that such study might easily lead to indentifying "high graded" gold upon presentation."

'ANYTHING GOES' IS HIT ON GEARY STAGE IN S. F.

Broadway's biggest hit, "Anything Goes", arrived at the Geary Theatre, San Francisco, on Monday night last for a brief engagment. Not for several seasons has there been evident the glamor, the oclat, the smartness and the spontaneous enthusiam that surrounded the San Francisco premiere, which places a few more feathers in the cap of the enterprising Henry Duffy who offers the California production. The brilliant capacity audience unanimously indorsed the New York and London verdict, that this merry musical comedy in unquestionable the outstanding success of the past decade in its field.

"Anything Goes" is hilarious, dynamic entertainment, right off the top shelf and highlighted by 12 rollicking comedy blackouts, a book written by Guy Bolton and P.G. Wodehouse; a cast of 70 headed by the ingratiating personalities of George Murphy, Shirley Ross, Hugh O'Connell, G.P. Huntley, Jr. Vicki Cummings, Ciecil Cunningham and Dorothy Kent; a chorus of 30 Hollywood beauties unprecedented for pep, personality and pluchritude; 16 willowy show girls to scintilating 1936 costumes in luxurious furs, evening gowns and sport clothes and a smart orchestra of 25 under the direction of Emil Newman adding snap and zip to every musical number.

Nine lightning changes of scene, made possible by the turn-table revolving stage, keep the show running with stream line train smoothness. Musical high-spots: Shirley Ross singing "I Got a Kick Out of You", "You're the Top", featuring Shirley Ross and George Murphy which called for a dozen encores; and the rollicking title song "Anything Goes" featuring Miss. Ross and the quartet. See this new show for its comedy, its music, its agreeable display of chorine lovliness, its satisfying dances and its blackouts, you'll get an million laughs.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE CONTINUES TO GAIN

Bankers Report Nation-Wide Improvement in Attitude Toward Banks—Educational Campaigns Play a Part

NEW YORK.—Ninety-six per cent of over 300 reporting clearinghouses throughout the United States find concrete evidence of favorable turns in public opinion regarding banks, it is shown in the results of a survey made by "Banking," the monthly publication of the American Bankers Association. City and country districts in every state are represented, it is pointed out.

"The outstanding conclusion is that there has been a genuine nation-wide improvement the last few months in the attitude of the public toward its banking institutions," the publication says. Statistical evidence on which the bankers base their conclusions which warrant this statement is as follows:

The Evidence

"How do bankers know there has been an improvement in the public attitude? They have certain statistical evidence. They have seen their deposits increase substantially in nearly all the cases reported, and tremendously in some cases. Many letters tell of increases of 100 to 300 per cent from the low point of the panic.

"For another thing, they know that fewer people are using safe deposit boxes as a repository for their savings, and that, in many instances at least, postal savings are declining.

"However, many express the view that they could throw out the statistical evidence and still realize that the public is in a better mood where the banks are concerned than before. The best evidence offered on this point, numerous bankers say, is to be found in the acceptance by the public of the newly instituted service charges and the reduced deposit interest rates."

A Summary of the Returns

The statement presents the following summary of the survey:

"We find on breaking up the general classifications of replies to the poll that the 65 per cent of those answering with an unqualified 'yes' represent only a partial measure of the optimistic feeling. Adding the favorable replies included in other groups (i. e. 'yes' with qualifications, 'no change,' and 'mixed') we find that the vote shows a definitely healthy situation in 84 per cent of the localities reporting; at least some signs of improvement in another 12 per cent; a continuance of unfavorable conditions in 2 per cent, and a change for the worse in another 2 per cent. It is not too much to say that this is substantially 96 per cent favorable."

Reasons for Changed Public Opinion

As to reasons for the changes in public opinion regarding banks reported by the clearinghouses "more than one organization has a word to say about the American Bankers Association advertising and educational material," the magazine says.

It mentions in addition the benefits of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in the emergency, improvement in the general business situation, the weeding out of weak banks and the banking moratorium.

"The response to the survey can be put down as encouraging and informative," the magazine concludes. "It holds out the definite hope that with a continuance of a cooperative, educational attitude on the part of the bankers the rest of the journey back to normal may well be completed in the not too distant future."

BANKERS ACTIVE IN SOIL SAVING MOVE

Issue Book Describing Causes, Ravages and Means of Prevention of Erosion

MADISON, Wisc.—Under the title "Protecting Investment Values in Land," the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission has published a booklet dealing with the conservation of soil resources as a pressing national problem.

"Careful estimates indicate that 750,000,000 tons of soil, suspended and dissolved, are carried off to the sea each year by running water," the commission's book declares. "An equal amount removed from its source is left en route. This means a total of 1,500,000,000 tons, equal to approximately one ton for each acre of land in this country. The Soil Conservation Service estimates that 35,000,000 acres have been ruined.

"There are 125,000,000 more acres that have lost the valuable topsoil, and it is estimated that still another 100 million acres are being converted into marginal or sub-marginal land, bringing disaster to those trying to eke out a living from erosion enfeebled soil, and threatening ruin to the next generation, since these destructive forces are going on at an increasing rate."

In a chapter devoted to control and preventive measures for soil losses it describes terracing, strip cropping, wind erosion control, gully control and the control of losses from leaching.

Other chapters are devoted to soil resources, the toll exacted by soil erosion, methods for keeping soils productive, state and national uses for non-agricultural land, forestry in a soil conservation program and wild life in a land use program. The booklet describes in detail the marshalling of many forces which is being brought about under the leadership of the Soil Erosion Service to meet this national problem.

SEVERANCE TAX

practically ceased. Mining communities had dwindled in population and wealth, and the commission concluded its report, "Unless conditions change they will soon cease to exist," They further reported:

"Taxes, added to high mining costs, have largely contributed to the closing of many underground mines."

And again:

"Prospective profits are eaten up in taxes. There is no longer any incentive for the discovery of new deposits through explorations, for if discovered and not available for immediate development through which an income may be derived, the burden of taxes becomes so great as to amount to confiscation."

In Kansas, Professor Jensen of the University of Kansas, one of the leading economists and tax authorities in the United States, says of the severance tax:

"The revenue from the gross earnings tax is uncertain and may vary widely from year to year."

And again:

"There is generally no discrimination among mines as to their ability to pay. Gross value of output is not ordinarily a satisfactory measure of the value of property. Unproductive lands or mines are not taxed, and thereby delay and speculation are encouraged, and unprofitable mines that are productive, as well as those that are being developed, are taxed unfairly."

He suggests that the only basis upon which a severance tax may be justified is as a tax in lieu of all other property taxes. That isn't the California proposal. The proposal is to add a severance tax on top of all other taxes the miner now pays.

In Arkansas the aluminum industry was practically killed by the imposition of severance taxes.

In South Dakota the imposition of a 4% severance tax on metal mining is reported to this association by the representatives of the Homestake Mine to have seriously retarded the development of the mining industry and to have resulted in the withdrawal of many projected extensions of existing developments in marginal territory.

These are a few examples of severance tax operation in other states based on first hand reports. Let California profit by the mistakes of her sister states and not follow them.

Here are only a few of the results of a severance tax on gold, as forecast by mining executives who attended the meeting Saturday.

DIRE CONSEQUENCES

Empire Star Mines Company, Ltd. Grass Valley, California—Work will be stopped on a new property for which development is contemplated.

Lava Cap Gold Mining Corp., Nevada City, California—A 3 per cent tax would wipe out estimated profit that this marginal mine expects to make, thereby causing a shutdown.

Argonaut Mining Co., Jackson, California—Expenditures for development would be decreased $175,000 annually, tonnage reduced 30 per cent and 25 per cent of present working force discharged.

Beebe Mine, El Dorado County, California—A 3 per cent gold tax would wipe out all net profit and stop operations, throwing 73 men out of work.

Natomas Co., Sacramento, California—Tax would shorten life of operations, stop work in reconstructing dredge with 30 men thrown out of work. If tax not passed, rebuilding operations will continue with fifty additional men employed.

Amador Central, Jackson, California—Mine will shut down throwing 100 men out of work.

Button Bros., Rosamond, California—Men will be discharged, wages lowered to take up cost of tax.

Yuba Consolidated Goldfields—Two or three dredges will be shut down, 75 men thrown out of work and all development work discontinued.

Calaveras Central Gold Mining Co., Angels Camp, California—Continue operations, if at all, on a very much reduced scale, with no permanent possibility of developing a large paying mine.

Harry Sears, Chairman of the Mining Industry Taxation Committee and President of the Mining Association of California, said that mines had to be built, many of them largely by their own production, consequently any tax on gold would halt developing mines. At the conclusion of Sears' talk, he was requested by Chairman Clifford R. Kallam, of the legislative Tax Committee, to submit additional information covering other phases of the discussion.

TAX COMMITTEE

Members of the Mining Industry Taxation Committee which will be in charge f the campaign against the gold severanve tax are: Kenneth K. Ash, Mt. Vernon Gold Mine; Phillip R. Bradley, President, Alaska Juneau Mining Co.; J. T. Boyd, Union Mine; E. B. DeGolia, President, Gold Hill Dredging Co.; Charles L. Gilmore, Chairman, Mining Committee, Sacramento Chamber of Commerce; O. H. Griggs, Mining Association of the Southwest; E. C. Hutchinson, President, Kennedy Mining and Milling Co.; J. C. Nevada Theatre

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

BROADWAY GONDOLIER- Ten great names in this cast including Adolph Menjou and Joan Blondell; a musical comedy replete with little new song hits and a good laugh every sixty seconds. This screen comedy required seven Venetian gondolas in the filming.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

STEAMBOAT ROUND THE BEND- Will Rogers in his greatest story. With the Nation's great humorist at the wheel this drama runs the gamut of emotions; a theme big as the Mississippi. in humor and adventure. One of the best dramas in filmdom.

SUPERFEX oil burning HEATERS

IF WINTER usually means months of stoking and ash-hauling for you, investigate the Superfex Heat-Director! Connected to a flue like an ordinary stove, it burns inexpensive fuel oil and directs the heat where you want it.

No moving mechanism. No drafts to regulate. To direct the heat, just open the patented heat-projectors on one, two or three sides of the heater. All Superfex Heater models are listed as standard by the Fire Underwriters. Terms to suit your convenience. A product of Perfection Stove Co.

Good Lighting starts with Proper Lamp Design

Here is the 1 2 3 of a Better Lamp for Better Light

1 — Higher standard than the ordinary lamp. 19½ inches from table top to bottom of shade.

2 — What a difference under the shade! The diffusing bowl which eliminates both reflected and direct glare to give light that is soft and glareless.

3 — The shade open at the top and wide at the bottom is the third reason why this revolutionary lamp gives six to ten times as much light as an ordinary lamp.

SEE that the lamps you buy for your home are designed to give you abundant light from proper height and distance so that it is easy for your eyes to see quickly and to read without effort.

Note the distinctive features of the Science of Seeing Study Lamp pictured above. They are the tall standard, the diffusing bowl and the special shade wide at the bottom to give much more useful light than ordinary lamps.

There should be at least one of these new lamps in every home. It helps good eyes to keep good eyesight and aids weakened eyes to see more easily.
